Seminar LDSHP 1.1: Are We Selling a "Career" to "Applicants? Employee Recruitment and Retention for the Long Term

Description: Workforce management in criminal justice fields, specifically the interconnected themes of recruitment and retention, has emerged as a pre-eminent challenge in the contemporary environment. This seminar outlines promising practices to engage potential recruits and existing employees to create a "compelling career" which attracts and retains best personnel for the long run.

Speaker: Charlie Scheer, Assistant Professor, The University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg, MS

8:30 AM - 9:30 AM

Seminar LDSHP 1.2: Ethics: The Most Important Perishable Skill

Description: Traditional law enforcement training focuses on the hard skills; however, the foundation of behavior is our personal character. This course will provide new ideas and concepts that highlight the importance of training character and describe how to infuse ethics in all you do. We will also explore how it is the small automatic decisions we make each day that reveal who we truly are.

Speakers: Dr. Kimberly Miller, Licensed Psychologist, Kimberly A. Miller & Associates, Fort Collins, CO; Lt. David Pearson, Fort Collins Police & Kimberly A. Miller & Associates, Fort Collins, CO

8:30 AM - 9:30 AM

Seminar LEO 1.1: Police, Fire, and EMS: An Integrated Approach to Mass Casualty Violence Events

Description: Lessons learned from mass casualty incidents reveal the need for increased cooperation among police, fire, and EMS. This seminar will provide an overview of various philosophies about how to accomplish better interoperability and possible ways forward in light of differing standing protocols, terminology, and missions among first responders.

Speakers: Charles Brewer, Branch Chief, Federal Law Enforcement Training Centers, Glynco, GA; Alexander Eastman, MD, MPH, FACS Lieutenant and Chief Medical Officer, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, TX

8:30 AM - 9:30 AM

Seminar TECH 1.1: Collecting the Right Use of Force Statistics

Description: The Florida Sheriff's Risk Management Fund has developed an unprecedented program that collects use of force data from all its members voluntarily, to show how having access to statistics on a regional level can shape policy, training, as well as notify management of any deputies whose previous involvement in use of force incidents might pose additional liability. Such a partnership can show how sharing relevant information can assist law enforcement agencies nationwide to be transparent and proactive as it relates to Use of Force.

Speakers: Bryan Selzer, CEO (Retired SSGT), LEFTA Systems, Jacksonville, FL; Gene Revell, Risk Control Specialist (Retired Commander from Leon County SO), Florida Sheriffs Risk Management Fund, Tallahassee, FL

NSA Executive Committee, Board of Directors and Past Presidents

9:45 AM - 10:45 AM

Seminar GM/R 2.1: Triad 101

Description: This seminar is designed to establish, with no additional resources, an effective volunteer-driven program to curb crime committed against your most vulnerable constituents – older adults. Reports demonstrate non-reporting among this demographic. Discover the effective techniques used in this community involvement program for peer to peer outreach to older adults involving your community outreach officer, older adult volunteers, and resources already in your community that can be harnessed to reduce senior victimization. You will leave with a step by step implementation manual with everything you need to begin.

Speakers: Deputy Sheriff David Fenton, Hampshire Sheriff's Office, Northampton, MA; David Sullivan, Northwestern District Attorney, Office of the Northwestern District Attorney, Northampton, MA

9:45 AM - 10:45 AM

Seminar LDSHP 2.1: Personnel Recruitment for Sheriff's Offices: Promising Strategies for Workforce Management

Description: Sheriff's offices, despite being different organizational systems than municipal police agencies, are subject to challenges in workforce recruiting and personnel development that affect all criminal justice organizations. This presentation discusses the applicant pool, generational preferences, and agencies and their recruitment strategies, and how each affects workforce management.

Speaker: Charlie Scheer, Assistant Professor, The University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg, MS

9:45 AM - 10:45 AM

Seminar LEO 2.1: Methods of Collecting, Reporting, and Information Sharing Utilizing the SAR Initiative

Description: This presentation showcases the criticality of the information state and local law enforcement provide to the Terrorist Screening Center. It covers methods of tracking Known or Suspected Terrorist (KST) movement, effective handling of KST encounters, and the layered law enforcement, intelligence, and homeland security approach to minimize threats of violent extremists.

Speakers: Scott Dahl, Instructor, Federal Law Enforcement Training Centers, Glynco, GA; Captain Jack Sadler, Hendricks County Sheriff's Office, Danville, IN

9:45 AM - 10:45 AM

Seminar TECH 2.1: Funding Law Enforcement TECH through Grants

Description: Looking for an alternative means to purchase body-worn cameras and other TECH for your department? Join us to discuss the state and local government grant funding landscape, review specific TECH-friendly grants, and offer tips for successful proposals. We will also highlight proven techniques to effectively leverage and justify the inclusion of TECH in your next application.

Seminar LDSHP 6.1: NSA's MAGNUS Series: Virtuous Magnanimous Officers

Description: The Magnanimous Law Enforcement Officer deploys habits of action by deliberate choice defined by sound reason, professional ethics, and personal character. The actions are not simply isolated behaviors but a set of studied virtues mastered over time. For a deed to be magnanimous, officers must act deliberately while demonstrating compassion and understanding. Challenged with occurrences of great risk, the Magnanimous Officer accepts his or her mission often defined between two extremes with automatic accountability while adhering to a moral compass, all with intentions of being mindful of their position as a guardian-servant leader of justice. Participants will come away better prepared to deal with the challenges of their duties, encourage and motivate others, internalize positive character traits and LDSHP styles, represent the standards of their agency and ideals of the profession, serve as a role model for others, overcome stress with resilience, and reconnect with the virtues of a MAGNUS Officer.

Speakers: Mitch Javidi, Ph.D., Founder, Institute for Credible Leadership Development; Sheriff Ray Nash (Ret.), Founder Police Dynamics Institute; and Chief Ward Clapham (Ret.), President, International Speakers Bureau, Institute for Credible Leadership Development

Seminar LDSHP 8.1: NSA's MAGNUS Series: Managing Implicit Bias in a VUCA World

Description: Unlike explicit bias (which reflects the attitudes or beliefs that one endorses at a conscious level), implicit bias is the bias in judgment and/or behavior that results from subtle cognitive processes (e.g., implicit attitudes and implicit stereotypes) that often operate at a level below conscious awareness and without intentional control. There is what you know, what you don't know, and then there is what you don't know that you don't know. Implicit Bias lives in the domain of what you don't know you don't know. For maximum impact community engaged policing, it is our responsibility as law enforcement officers to seek out and resolve those biases that exist subconsciously within each of us, due to media, history or upbringing. Through experiential learning, this workshop allows the participants to discover their own implicit bias and how it affects their experience of another person. By combining deliberate leadership, emotional intelligence, body (language) awareness and authentic conversation, one's implicit biases are brought to light and dismantled.

Speakers: Cathy Greenburg, Ph.D., Founder, Fearless Leader Group; and Mitch Javidi, Ph.D., Founder, Institute for Credible Leadership Development

2:00 PM - 4:00 PM
