

Vant4ge Offers Free Tools to Help with COVID-19 Crisis

Together We Can Navigate the COVID-19 Crisis

To slow the spread of coronavirus, some corrections agencies have made the decision to release a certain portion of their incarcerated population. The question is, which inmates are the safest to release? Part of the answer is to rely on validated and predictive risk assessments. Good assessments can support release decisions by identifying those who represent a lower risk of harm to the community.

Vant4ge has created, validated, and implemented these types of risk assessments for the corrections field for over 20 years. To help during this crisis, we are now offering these tools free of charge.

By giving these tools to agencies for free, we are hoping to support you in this time of crisis. You'll be able to identify those inmates who could be safely managed outside of incarceration—while also increasing the safety of staff and remaining inmates.

To learn more about this free offer, the Static Risk Assessment and Vant4gePoint,™ click here to find more details.

How to Get Started

If Vant4ge can help your agency, let us know. Contact us in any of these ways:

- Fill out this form, and Vant4ge will contact you immediately
- Email us at service@vant4ge.com
- Call us at 877-277-3778

The free version of Vant4gePoint™ will give you:

- The industry-proven Static Risk Assessment (SRA)
- Critical insights into the risk level of each subject
- A validated way to identify lower risk offenders quickly, easily, and reliably
- The ability to support informed, objective decisions that will keep your population and community safer
- A security-focused platform with CJIS-conformant software deployed in Microsoft's Azure Government cloud